

Chelsea Lipstreu earned a degree in Molecular Biology with a minor in Psychology from Grove City College in Pennsylvania. She attended the University of Maryland School of Medicine for 3 semesters before deciding to pursue other paths. She met her husband Kyle at the University of Texas, where she spent time doing research in a Molecular Biology lab. Chelsea and Kyle have been married since 2008 and now have 3 daughters. She is a member of U.S. Masters Swimming, is a group leader at Bible Study Fellowship, and helps to teach 4th and 5th grade Sunday School at church. Chelsea has homeschooled her oldest daughter since 2021 and is excited to bring her love of science to Home Run Ministries!
