

Mrs. Solberg earned her Bachelor of Science degree in Food Science from Stephen F. Austin State University. After college she began working for the Women, Infants and Children program serving as a nutritionist and then program director. She left her career to stay home with her 4 children. She worked in the public school setting teaching Reading, English and Language Arts at the secondary level for 4 years before beginning to homeschool her 3 children still at home (the oldest is grown and flown!) They also attend Home Run Ministries. Over the years, she has served in Girls in Action, Awanas, pre-k bible study, middle school girls' bible study and in the Women's Ministry.
